Appointments of the Y. M. C. A. for next Sunday: To conduct the afternoon meeting, J. W. Daniels—Scripture, Luke 15; Poor House Committee, W. W. Keys, C. F. Jones.

The Democratic Clubs should send their best men to the County Convention. It is a meeting of great importance, and the best material in the party should be brought to the front.

A new agricultural journal will make its appearance in Columbia about the middle of this month. We sincerely hope it will not meet with as sad a fate as did the Rural Carolinian.

Rev. W. F. Pearson, of Due West, is ill from a stroke of paralysis. He has many friends and admirers in Anderson who regret to hear of his illness and wish him a speedy recovery.

At the regular monthly conference of the Anderson Baptist Church on next Sunday morning an election will be held for a pastor to succeed Rev. Mr. Strickland, whose term expires on the 27th of June.

Ex-Senator Cochran was so thoroughly disgusted with the character of the make-up of the Republican State Convention that he declined to attend it. It was composed principally of the renegades of the party.

Every Democratic Club in the County should organize promptly on next Saturday. Let there be a simultaneous and earnest move along the whole line. There is a great deal to be gained by starting right.

"During a recent visit to Anderson we had the pleasure of meeting Gen. Humphreys."—Abbeville Press and Banner. And we venture to say that you never did not never will meet a more perfect gentleman.

The semi-annual meeting of the Anderson County Singing Convention, to be held at Midway Church, will convene on next Saturday, 8th instant, and not on the Saturday following, as announced last week.

The young people of the town, with a fair representation of the old folks, about a hundred in all, spent a pleasant day picnicking at High Shoals on Saturday. Messrs. T. M. White and N. K. Sullivan chaperoned the party.

The Charleston News and Courier donated an entire new dress on Monday, which adds a great deal to its appearance. It is the most widely circulated and best managed paper in the Cotton States, and is rapidly increasing in popular favor.

Col. R. E. Sadler, of Hartwell, Ga., spent several days of last week in Anderson. We regret to learn that he is at present in delicate health, and hopes that he will soon be as robust as usual. The Empire State can boast of few more substantial and reliable citizens than Col. Sadler.

Mr. S. A. Arnstein, of Camden, and Mr. C. M. Rose, of New York, are at present on a visit to Anderson. The former is well known to our people, having lived in our town several years prior to his removal to his present home. The latter is an uncle of the proprietors of the New York Cash Store, and a man of extensive means.

There were not a great many people here on Monday, and considering it was Saturday the town was rather dull. The only thing that occurred to create any sensation whatever was a fracas with a kicking mule some of the "trading stock" on Main street just below the Benson House.

"Mr. E. B. Murray, editor of the Anderson (S. C.) Intelligencer, and Hon. John D. Wylie, of Lancaster, S. C., honored us with a visit yesterday. They have been investigating the treatment and condition of convicts in the Palmetto State. The Intelligencer is a first-class weekly journal, and an honor to the progress and enlightenment of the up-country of South Carolina."—Augusta Chronicle and Constitutionalist.

As will be seen by reference to the notice of Mr. Tolly, President of the Anderson Democratic Club, the meeting to reorganize this Club will be held on Friday night instead of Saturday afternoon, the time appointed by the County Executive Committee. This change is made for the reason that it will ensure a larger attendance upon the meeting. It is hoped that every citizen who can will attend the meeting, and lend a helping hand in the reorganization of this Club.

The Abbeville Democratic Convention was held on Monday last, and everything passed off pleasantly. Col. J. S. Cottrill was elected County Chairman, and the following gentlemen will represent the County in the State Convention: J. C. Maxwell, W. P. Wideman, W. Z. McGhee, E. R. Hemphill and Wm. Hood. Resolutions endorsing Congressman Aiken and requesting the delegation to the State Convention to vote against making nominations at the coming meeting were adopted. At least a portion of the delegation are Gary men.

The Executive Committee of the Anderson Farmers' and Mechanics' Association met on Tuesday morning, and several important changes were made in regard to the future management of the Association. The admission fee to the annual fairs was reduced to 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children, and it was determined hereafter to pay all premiums in money. The premium list will be published in a few weeks, and circulated in every section of the County. It is to be hoped that the changes made will meet with great interest in the fairs, and that hereafter they will be more generously patronized.

Now that a new Superintendent has taken charge of the Greenville & Columbia Railroad, we hope some attention will be paid to the accommodation and comfort of passengers on the Anderson Branch. We can see no reason why a comfortable passenger coach should not be placed on this section of the Road, as the amount of travel between Wallahalla and Belton certainly justifies it. There is no section of the G. & C. R. R. so neglected as the Anderson Branch, and we doubt if there is another part of the line of the same length that pays the Company better, since the establishment of the depot at Seneca City.

The passenger train on the Greenville & Columbia Railroad came near being precipitated into a stream on last Friday by the giving away of a trestle between Silver Street and Saluda Old Town. The disaster was averted by the presence of mind of the engineer, who discovered the defect in the trestle just as his engine reached it. He put on a full head of steam, and fairly made the engine jump across the trestle, and thereby saved the train and prevented a serious accident. After getting safely over the train was stopped and an examination revealed the fact that one of the stringers upon which the trestle rested had decayed, was broken in two and the bench or upright pieces had fallen into the water. One side of the track sank down over two feet as the train passed over.

The Abbeville Press and Banner does not like either Hagood or Gary as gubernatorial candidates, and thinks that it will be difficult for the Democracy to succeed in the approaching election with either of these parties as its standard-bearer. It would like to see a third man nominated, as, in its opinion, Abbeville County cannot be united on either Hagood or Gary. The Press and Banner of course knows the feeling of the Democracy of that County in regard to this matter better than we do, but it is certainly hard for us to think that the Abbeville Democracy would refuse to give the man whom the State Convention nominates for Governor their hearty and united support. It is perfectly legitimate to have personal and individual preferences prior to the nomination of the party, but after that all personal preferences should be dismissed, and every effort concentrated on the nominee.

Capt. W. K. Bradley, President of the Greenwood and Augusta Railroad, and to whose energy and enterprise the grading of that Road is largely due, is now agitating the question of building another road from Tricheck, a point on the G. and A. Road to Belton, to connect there with and form a part of the French Broad Valley Road. He thinks the line could be located and graded for $50,000, which sum could be raised by levying a small tax in the townships through which it will run, and not bear heavily upon the taxpayers. His idea is to employ Irish immigrants to do the work, and thereby induce a large number of these thrifty people to become permanent settlers along the line of the Road, who would of course do a great deal towards developing the resources of those sections. The projected line will run by Due West, Long Cane, Abbeville, C. H. and Cedar Springs, at which places, we understand, arrangements are being made to hold public meetings for the purpose of discussing the practicability of the enterprise.

"Anderson is fast recovering from her neglect of particular opportunities and becoming, what she has been in the past, a strong rival to any town or city in the up-country, and by her present well developed industry by money and means, to increase her railroad facilities, will certainly hold her own if she does not outstrip her neighbors." They have received there this last season 14,800 bales of cotton, averaging $45 to $50 per bale. With the large and beautiful churches and flourishing male and female schools the citizens seem well satisfied, but they are not idle, nor do they intend to rest as if their town was already built and completed. In a very short time a corps of engineers will be staking off the line from Anderson to Don's Mine, thus giving them a way to Augusta by rail at less than 90 or 100 miles. Last week the same citizens by voluntary subscription raised $500 for an experimental survey from Anderson to Easley to connect there with the Atlantic and French Broad Railroad.—Greenville Advertiser.
